PENNSYLVANIA'S GUFFEY LEADING BALLOT BATTLE

New Deal Supporter Has Early Margin For U. S. Senator

PITTSBURGH OIL MAN IS TRAILING

F.D.R. Gets Heavy Test Vote; Dewey Leads G. O. P. Write-ins

(By Associated Press)
PHILADELPHIA, April 24.—Sen. Joseph P. Guffey, down-the-line supporter of the New Deal, held a steadily widening lead today for Democratic nomination for U. S. senator in Pennsylvania's primary which gave President Roosevelt a heavy test vote.

The President's name was placed on a presidential preference ballot by the Democratic state committee which endorsed him for a third term.

Guffey, who had said his defeat would be interpreted as "repudiation of President Roosevelt and the New Deal," never lost his early lead.

PHILADELPHIA, April 24.—Returns from 7,075 of the 8,105 districts in Pennsylvania, gave Jones for Democratic senator 271,454; McNair 47,457; Guffey 350,481.

Returns from 6,445 districts gave Ladd for Republican senator 179,299; Cooke 586,867; Derenzo 39,044.

over his chief rival, Walter A. Jones, Pittsburgh oil man supported by Democratic State Chairman David L. Lawrence and other leaders.

Unofficial Returns
Unofficial returns from 5,426 of the state's 8,105 districts gave: Guffey—386,334; Jones—212,764.

In the same tabulation, William N. McNair, former mayor of Pittsburgh—who opposed the New Deal—polled 35,457.

The count from 3,303 districts gave the President 263,303 votes—the highest received by any candidate in top contests on the Democratic ballot.

Although Mr. Roosevelt's was the only name listed, there were scattered write-in votes for Vice President John N. Garner, James A. Farley and Secretary of State Cordell Hull.

Thomas A. Dewey of New York swung far ahead in write-in votes on the Republican presidential preference ballot. No names were filed, but in blank spaces provided, returns from 1,755 districts gave Dewey 6,263; Pennsylvania's Governor Arthur H. James 1,096; Sen. Robert A. Taft 195; Sen. Arthur H. Vandenberg 118 and Frank Garner.

Mr. Roosevelt got 145 of the Republican write-in votes in the 1,755 districts.

GOP Vote Is Heavier
Although the Guffey-Jones Democratic scrap was the only lively issue of the campaign, Republicans, with a registration of 2,572,100 to the Democrats' 2,046,129, were polling heavier totals.

Republican organization-backed candidates won by wide margins. Heading the slate, Philadelphia City Chairman Jay Cooke added

SABER-RATTLING HEARD IN ROME

Fascist Circles Adopting Sharper Attitude Toward Britain

ROME, April 24.—Fascist circles today reported a sharpening of Italy's attitude toward the Allies, particularly toward Britain, but there was no indication that this would lead to early Italian participation in the war on the side of Germany.

Premier Mussolini was reported to be greatly irritated by the hindrance to Italian trade caused by the Allied blockade of Germany as well as by reports that British naval circles were indifferent to Italy's possible entry into the war as an ally of the Nazis.

Fascist quarters said Mussolini expressed his feelings with the warning, "Let the English try to come in front of Fiumicino." (Fiumicino is at the mouth of the Tiber river).

One informant said this reported remark had been prompted by a London newspaper's statement that Rome was within the range of the British navy's big guns.

British efforts to reach a satisfactory trade agreement with Italy were reported to be at a standstill.

CREST AWAITED IN CINCINNATI

Ohio Leaves Muddy, 500-Mile Trail, But Little Damage

(By Associated Press)
CINCINNATI, April 24.—The Ohio, a wide and lawny river in one of its periodic floods, was expected to crest here today, leaving a muddy trail 500 miles long behind it, but little damage.

Weather bureau observers predicted the river would reach a 60-foot stage, eight feet above the flood level, by noon and then remain stationary at the crest for 24 hours before starting its runoff.

While river men credited adequate preparation for holding down flood losses, two Ohio congressmen sought to speed up financing of protective works. Rep. Charles H. Elston, Cincinnati Republican, announced in Washington that members of the house flood control committee favored his proposal to authorize local governments to advance funds for the use of army engineers in flood control work.

Rep. Harold K. Claypool said in Chillicothe that he would ask the flood control committee to recommend an $8,500,000 appropriation for work in Pickaway and Ross counties.

Agriculture Adjustment Administration officials in Hamilton and Warren counties announced that indemnities on flood-damaged wheat under the AAA crop insurance plan would be paid as soon as losses were verified by county conservation committees.

Most of the damage during the past week was caused by flash floods in tributaries of the Ohio rather than the steady rise of the big stream itself.

Class Is Planning Columbiana Play

COLUMBIANA, May 24.—Final rehearsals are being held for the Senior class play which will be presented in the school auditorium Thursday evening, May 2.

The cast of the play, "Next Door Neighbor," follows: Aunt Carrie, Muriel Miller; Mrs. William Hicks, Mildred Trotter; Mrs. Oscar Stone, Betty Moore; Lillian Stone, Dawn Stacey; Mrs. Blackmore, Barbara Robinson; Nettie Blackmore, Marjorie Hepburn; Phoebe Hicks, Helen Prizant; Johnny Hicks, Fred Wilson; Mr. William Hicks, Eugene Royce; Crawford Stone, Jack Ritter; Mr. Oscar Stone, James Burkle; Mr. Tulliver, Evan Dyke.

Chaos Goal Of European War, Writer's View

Points To English Budget And Duff Cooper's "Bitter End" Talk

By DEWITT MACKENZIE
England yesterday produced two events which, by association of ideas, combine to form a striking chapter of Europe's current war history.

One was the disclosure of John Bull's mountainous new budget which breaks the record for the country and represents a financial burden that is among the heaviest of its kind ever borne by any nation.

The other was a remarkable declaration by former First Lord of the Admiralty Alfred Duff Cooper, who frequently voices his views without any muffler on his exhaust.

He urged war to the bitter end in actual battle against the whole German people and not merely against the Nazi regime—the exact opposite of the policy which Premier Chamberlain has pursued with so much pains.

Either of these developments was enough to give the average Briton a bad head this morning. The two coming together must have been excruciating, because the budget cried out for a quick termination of the conflict, while the Duff Cooper speech must tend to drive the German public to fight to the last ditch.

Chancellor of the Exchequer Sir John Simon announced a budget of 2,667,000,000 pounds for the ensuing fiscal year. At the present depressed rate of exchange that amounts to some $9,334,500,000 but normally it totals more than $13,000,000,000—roughly $289 for every person, big and little, in the United Kingdom if it were collected on the per capita basis.

Sir John signalled the imposition of a lot of new levies against the shabby purses of the public "for the sake of victory."

Europe is headed straight for economic and financial chaos as fast as it can go. A protracted war may mean catastrophe for many nations. A short war would give a chance to salvage something from the wreckage.

PARIS REPORTS SWEDISH THREAT

Declare Nazi Movements Indicate Invasion Of New Field

(By Associated Press)
German officials claimed a firm hold today on all of southern Norway between Oslo and the west coast at Stavanger but acknowledged a British threat in the far north.

The high command reported large units of the British fleet were approaching Narvik, northern Norwegian iron ore port, apparently to a tempt extensive troop landings there. It said Austrian alpine forces were prepared to defend the Germans' northern foothold.

In London, the war office said British troops in the Trondheim area had repelled a strong German counterattack "after some sharp fighting" yesterday and had re-established their lines.

Three British planes were shot down attempting to bomb Stavanger, the German high command reported.

In Paris, official reports of Nazi troop embarkations at German Baltic ports opposite Sweden caused renewed expressions of fear that German forces might invade Sweden.

A French war ministry spokesman issued the statement and called the embarkations an "evident menace" to Sweden.

He said the Germans were leaving harbors far east of the routes for transports to Norway and were accompanied by ice-breakers—evidence, he said, that the fleet was pointed toward operations farther north in the Baltic, still clogged with winter ice floes.

The Allied supreme war council, meeting in Paris yesterday, drafted plans to counteract any German invasion of Sweden. French Premier Paul Reynaud has called his cabinet to put into effect the council's new plans.

DNB, official German news agency, meanwhile, listed 61 British naval units as having been put out of action—32 by sinking or fire—since the beginning of the Scandinavian campaign.

This was in answer to official figures in London acknowledging British losses of only 18 warships, including submarines, for the whole war so far.

The British government informed the house of commons it had invited Soviet Russia to put forward concrete proposals for a trade agreement recognizing Britain's paramount objective of encircling Germany within an airtight blockade.

Mail Collections Are Advanced For Daylight Saving

Mail box collections in the business district are to be made a half-hour earlier than usual commencing Sunday, Postmaster A. E. Beardmore announced today.

Daylight saving time, going into effect that day, will bring several changes in train schedules here and the mail box pickups will have to be made earlier in order to meet the trains, it was explained.

Trucks will gather mail from the boxes between 7 and 7:30 in the mornings, instead of between 7:30 and 8, and in the afternoon between 4:30 and 5, instead of 5 and 5:30.

The afternoon pickup will be of particular interest to downtown business establishments, the postmaster said, since they have been used to depositing the day's mail after 5 o'clock.

Cards calling attention to the new hours of pickup have been installed in the mail boxes by Leigh Whitney, superintendent of mails.

Officers Named By Baptist Young Folks

Miss Betty Hinkley was named president of the senior Young People's society of the First Baptist church at the annual election of officers at the church last night.

Other officers are: Vice president, Miss Margaret Bennett; secretary, Miss Dorothy Miller; treasurer, Miss Betty Tullis; group leaders, Miss Ruth Bowker, Miss Ethel Letzkus, Miss Dorothy Hinkley and Robert Miller; adult advisors, Mr. and Mrs. B. G. Ludwig.

Music and games were enjoyed following the election of officers. Refreshments were served.

WARE WORKERS MEET SATURDAY

Seventh Annual Fish Fry And Program Are Scheduled

Employees of the Salem China Co. and guests are expected to turn out for the seventh annual fish fry of Salem local No. 42, National Brotherhood of Operative Potters, Saturday night in the Memorial building. Five hundred persons enjoyed last year's event.

The program, which has been arranged by John Ehrhart, entertainment committee chairman, and Mrs. Charles Moore, lunch committee chairman, will open with the dinner at 5:30.

A 12-act floor show, opening at 7, will be in charge of William Cassidy, The Lassies of Swing, led by Betty Ketterer, will play during the dinner hour, while Eddie Lane's orchestra from East Liverpool will provide music for the dancing which will commence at 9 and continue until 12.

James M. Duffy of East Liverpool, president of the N. B. O. P., and Floyd W. McKee, general manager of the Salem China Co., are expected to speak at the dinner meeting. Other officials of the potters' union, including Secretary-Treasurer John McGilivray, are expected to be present, as well as representatives of potters' locals in neighboring communities.

James Edwards and Richard Reddy will serve as chefs for the fish fry.

Reddy is president of the Salem local. Other officers are: Vice president, John Ehrhart; secretary-treasurer, Castle Krepps; financial secretary, Harry Vincent; defense secretary, Roy Ripple; treasurer, Bruce Cope; inspector, Fred Morrow; guard, Mrs. Leona Walters; trustees, Roy Balsey, Phil Laughlin and Carroll Mohr.

School Board Will Make Playgrounds

COLUMBIANA, April 24.—The Columbiana board of education will sell the house on the former Esterly property, recently purchased by the board, adjoining the present school building.

Bids will be received by the board May 7. The house must be removed between May 31 and July 1, after which the board expects to have the plot graded and made into additional playgrounds.

Village officials are being asked to close the alley to the north, it being little used, so that the grounds may be extended to the edge of the library lot.

Roosevelt's Talk With Minister Means Nothing, World Told

WARM SPRINGS, Ga., April 24.—An unpretentious white frame cottage housed today the President of the United States and the prime minister of Canada—and the secret of the talk has passed between them.

President Roosevelt was insistent that the visit from W. L. Mackenzie King "literally means nothing," and that "no question of American or Canadian policy" was involved.

Reporters swarming around the little white house on Pine mountain were hesitant to think that the heads of the two North American neighbors were ignoring entirely the relationships of their countries and issues affecting the western hemisphere which have grown from war abroad.

But they could find no intimation whatever that the prime minister's call was anything more than what the President said it was—the usual visit paid by MacKenzie King while on his annual spring vacation in the United States.

Newsmen had no chance to interrogate MacKenzie King, who was leaving late today, and the President thought "it would not be good for the American position" for his guest to issue a statement or be interviewed during "a purely vacation trip."

Venzke's campaign speeches dealt chiefly with his experiences on the cinder track.

PROWLER SHOOT MARINE SENTRY

Wounding of Quantic Trooper Gives FBI Mystery Like Real "International Thriller"

QUANTICO, Va., April 24.—The wounding of a sentry by a furtive nocturnal prowler surprised near a marine base airport hangar gave the Federal Bureau of Investigation a mystery today that read like a chapter from an international "thriller."

The incident happened early Monday, but it leaked out only last night through civilian workers at the marine base. This is the story they told:

In the shadows of one of the hangars he spied a man apparently carrying a blow torch, and immediately challenged him.

The prowler replied with a pistol shot, which hit the sentry in the abdomen. The shot brought other marines running to the scene, but the gunman escaped.

Marine corps officials refused to discuss what had happened or to disclose the name of the wounded sentry. It was reported, however, that the wound was not serious.

Military and naval reservations generally have been closed to the public ever since the President proclaimed a state of limited emergency after the European war broke out last September.

County Officials To Discuss Relief

Columbiana county commissioners, relief heads and officials of the four county cities, Salem, East Palestine, East Liverpool and Wellsville, will go to Columbus Thursday morning for a relief conference with State Welfare Director Charles Sherwood.

Salem will be represented at the parley by City Auditor Karl Webster.

The exact purpose of the conference is not known, although the state welfare director has been holding relief meetings with various county groups from time to time.

AKRON, April 24.—City council has ordered Mayor L. D. Schroy to accord "equal treatment" to both sides in the 14-day-old General Tire & Rubber Co. strike.

A council resolution was passed after leaders of the United Rubber Workers (CIO) charged that "police are inciting trouble in the picket lines."

Meanwhile David T. Roadley, federal conciliator, was reported seeking another meeting of Union and company officials in an effort to end the strike, called because of a dispute over negotiation of union grievances.

ONE-EXIT HALL IS BIG TRAP AT NATCHEZ, MISS.

No Other Doors; Windows Boarded Up To Keep Out "Crashers"

MAJORITY DEAD OF SUFFOCATION

Place Known As Rhythm Club; Sponsored "Big Name" Band Dances

(By Associated Press)
NATCHEZ, Miss., April 24.—More than 225 Negro men and women were burned to death here late last night when flames, racing through decorations of dry Spanish moss, trapped them in a one-exit dance hall.

Coroner R. E. Smith said he and Sheriff Hyde R. Jenkins had counted that many dead. He expressed the belief a score or more others in hospitals might die, bringing the toll to almost 250.

Hundreds of dancers were in the hall when the fire broke out and flared suddenly. There were no rear or side doors in the building and windows had been boarded up.

"Piled Like Cordwood"

The coroner said bodies were "piled up like cordwood."

"The skin was peeled from faces, blood oozed from mouths and flesh was broken," he said. "From my examination, it appeared that most of the people died of suffocation."

A majority of the victims were about 15 or 16 years old. There were about as many men as women victims.

"The bodies were piled up in funeral parlors and no identifications have been made yet. The undertakers told me they would embalm the bodies and then line them up and let relatives file by to identify kinsmen."

Smith declared that 10 of the 13 members of the "Waltz Barnes" orchestra of Chicago, which played last night, perished.

V. H. Jeffries, a photographer, who reached the scene a short time after the disaster, said the walls and tin roof of the building remained in place but that the inside was gutted.

Near Orchestra Stand

Most of the dead were found piled up near the orchestra stand, away from the one exit.

At least a score or more persons were burned or injured in the stampede for the door after the fire started. All the city's doctors hurried to the scene and they were assisted by firemen and others.

The coroner, also managing editor of the Natchez Democrat, said the janitor of the newspaper, attending the dance, was standing near the rear and escaped but did not know what started the blaze.

He quoted the Negro as saying: "All I thought about was getting away from there."

The place was known as the Rhythm Night club and sponsored regular dances at which "big-name" bands played.

It is located on St. Catherine street, in the Negro section but only a few blocks from the Natchez commercial area.

PSYCHOLOGY OF DEFEAT

In a carefully studied article on the "futility complex" that was Germany's silent ally in Denmark and Norway, Wade Werner, chief of the Copenhagen bureau of Associated Press, says:

"A tremendous Allied victory might change this attitude of defeatism. Real signs of an imminent collapse in Germany might transform the picture overnight."

Repercussions might be extensive too. The psychology of defeat is having effect elsewhere in the world. Sometimes it is used shrewdly. Sometimes it is set in motion thoughtlessly. A rear admiral in the U. S. navy says war with Japan is inevitable. Thousands of feverish patriots say participation in the European war is inevitable. New Dealers whoop and holler that a third term for Mr. Roosevelt is inevitable. Parlor pinks yammer that revolution is inevitable. Collapse of the British empire, persecution of Jews, triumph of the New York Yankees in the American league, work stoppages by union agents, higher taxes—all these are inevitable, depending on who's talking.

That is the great question of the hour: Who says so? Ge, the name, address, political, religious and fraternal affiliations, family background, prejudices and pet ideas. A lot of the psychology of defeat will be exposed for what it really is—ax grinding. The unstopables, meaning the Yankees as well as the high-compression Teutons being managed by Adolf Hitler, will get into their pants one leg at a time. As long as that goes on no one is going to be insuperable.

ORIGIN OF BLUE MONDAY

The mystery of blue Monday thickens when Monday isn't blue, as this week's Monday wasn't, except overhead.

It probably came from Monday being wash day, which meant nothing much for breakfast but the smell of soap being boiled into a jelly and the un-inspiring taste of potato soap for lunch.

Everybody had a right to feel blue about Monday in those days. The rising generation learned to fear it and continued to feel that way long after wash day had ceased to be a weekly interval of horror. If a woman could get by Monday she could endure anything—and said so, bitterly.

Thus, because of nothing but a conditioned reflex dating back to childhood when Monday was a day of horror, it still is an off day. It is pleasant to believe a new generation is rising which won't be under this handicap where Monday is concerned.

The way Monday should be was demonstrated this week, when it was the beginning of a new work week that was going to be an improvement over last week's work week. At least, it was going to have one day of decent weather in it. Perhaps if the sun would always shine on Monday, the way it does in Dixie, the blue Monday business would cure itself.

CLASSIC COMEBACK

In connection with arrest of one George Sealise in New York City to answer some questions by the district attorney's office, a sidelight on politics is casting its beam.

Sealise is a big man in the labor unions. The district attorney is Thomas E. Dewey, a big man in presidential politics. Asked for a statement on his predicament, Sealise said with almost trusting simplicity: "I am a victim of political aspirations."

That meant Dewey. If political aspirant's ever order the arrest of big union men to further their cause, something will have happened in the United States. Either George Sealise has made a profound social and political discovery, or he is falling back on the classic comeback of all who fall afoul of elected officials in election years—that the jobholders are doing their duty out of ulterior motives.

SNAKE CHARMING

The era of non-violence has started if revived rumors of a mechanism able "to paralyze" the guns and motors of an enemy turn out any better than their predecessors.

It wouldn't matter a 500 lb. shell on the Maginot line who claimed to have possession of the gadget. One of the rules of war is that no one ever holds a monopoly on advantage.

If Germany had some kind of a snake charming hoo doo to turn against the Allies they'd soon have something just as good. The only exciting thing is that the purpose of the hoo doo isn't to kill the enemy.

First thing the generals knew their boys would be striving with each other to see how many enemies they wouldn't have to kill but could put out of commission with the hex. It would play hob with modern war.

AN IMPORTANT day, with large and expansive forces combining to make for success in major objectives, with the promise of rich returns for meritorious propositions and sound ambitions, is forecast. This may attract hearty support from influential persons or those of ample capital for promotion. But these must be approached with tact and sagacity, since there is a menace from impetuosity, rash or excitable tactics. There also are signs of craft, duplicity or other sinister complications. Beware of extravagance and over-indulgence.

Those whose birthday it is may look for a very progressive and expansive year, with things moving toward high goals of achievement and satisfaction, especially in launching new and ambitious projects. But use tact and restraint when approaching superiors or influential persons for financial support. Avoid subtle pitfalls, snares or treacheries, and refrain from rash, impulsive and extravagant behavior, in social as well as business contacts.

A child born on this day may be efficient, ambitious and clever, but also may have impetuous, arduous or tempestuous moods to its detriment. Its good nature, friendliness and generosity should enhance its prestige and popularity if prudently managed.

FCA FACING PINCH

WASHINGTON, April 24.—The Farm Credit Administration officials said today, faces an impairment of its ability to meet its own operating expenses and absorb losses if congress decides to curtail its investment by $315,000,000.

The suggestion that this amount, roughly half of the government's investment in the FCA, might be withdrawn was made Monday by President Roosevelt in a letter to Vice President Garner.

He listed the FCA among sources from which funds might be obtained and returned to the treasury, thus helping to keep the national debt from exceeding the statutory $45,000,000,000 limit.

Withdrawal of $315,000,000 would not affect the ability of the FCA to provide ample farm credit, officials emphasized, because its lending units could raise funds by bond issues and by rediscounting loan collateral submitted by farmers.

Loss of the money, however, would deprive FCA of an important source of income, they said. The FCA does not have to pay anything for use of the government funds, and it profits by lending them to farmers at about 5 per cent interest.

Earnings from loans to farmers have been used not only to pay operating expenses but to meet losses and to build up reserve against future losses. Because of shrinkage in land values since the early thirties, the FCA's land bank unit has had to take over some farms and resell them at losses.

The land bank now holds $1,900,000,000 in farm mortgages. Some farm credit authorities, including Secretary Wallace, believe that these mortgages exceed the value of the land and that the lending institutions will be required to take some losses.

Diabetes Cure Is Possible, But Rare, Says Clendening

By LOGAN CLENDENING, M. D.

Is diabetes ever cured? Diabetes can be kept under control so that it gives practically no disagreeable symptoms, but cases of cure are rare. By cure I mean that the patient can eat whatever he likes with no insulin, and has no sugar in the urine.

A patient reported by Dr. Elliott Joslin developed diabetes at the age of two. At first she was a severe diabetic, requiring 30 to 40 units of insulin a day, as well as a carefully-regulated diet. She continued this way until her first year in college. Then the insulin requirement dropped off; in her junior year she needed only five units, and in her senior year none at all. She is now 22 years old.

Dr. Clendening will answer questions of general interest only, and then only through his column.

Another type is a man, 65 years old, who had diabetes for six years. He was a mild type and required only 15 units of insulin a day. Then he had a gall-bladder operation and the diabetes steadily improved. Now he eats what he likes, takes no insulin and shows no sign of diabetes.

The explanation is that the cause of diabetes is an atrophy of the secretory cells of the pancreas which manufacture insulin. But with this atrophy there goes a tendency for the cells to regenerate in the course of time and start functioning again. There is, therefore, no inherent reason why diabetes should not tend toward recovery, if the cells are rested by the artificial supply of insulin, and with improvement in treatment patients will live longer and causes of cure increase.

Modern Treatment of Epilepsy

What is the modern treatment of epilepsy? Epilepsy is due to an irritation of the motor section of the brain. If this is caused by skull injury or irritation from a tumor, the irritation can be removed by surgical treatment. Scars and areas of pressure and adhesions can be improved in this way.

Most cases of epilepsy, however, are not of this kind. The three methods of treatment of the functional form of epilepsy are depressant drugs, high fat (ketogenic) diet and fluid restriction will control most cases.

The depressant medicines used include the bromides and barbiturates. They act by depressing the irritable motor cortex of the brain.

Mr. and Mrs. Frank Cattell called on Mr. and Mrs. Howard Caldwell of Westville, Sunday.

Northeast Ohio Sets 1939 Traffic Death Pace

The nine counties comprising the heavy industrial traffic area of northeast Ohio were the spots responsible in 1939 for the greatest number of automobile fatalities on highways outside municipalities.

Computations just completed by the bureau of traffic and safety of the Ohio department of highways, and the Ohio Traffic Safety council, bring this fact to light for the first time.

Of the 88 counties in Ohio, only three—Harrison, Perry and Hocking—did not have an automobile fatality on the state roads. E. Neal, chief of the traffic and safety bureau, said: The nine counties where the greatest number of fatalities occurred on state roads, Neal said, were—Lorain, Cuyahoga, Medina, Summit, Portage, Stark, Trumbull, Mahoning, Columbiana.

The map shown gives the total number of highway deaths by counties, the figures being those for deaths on state roads outside corporation limits. There were 11,716 highway accidents reported to the highway department traffic bureau last year. Neal said. There were 610 deaths on these same highways, and 9,306 persons were injured in automobile smashups on the state road system.

"The lesson to be immediately learned from the death report for 1939, as shown on the map, is that no greater contribution to the cause of highway safety can be made than that the people of Ohio, especially in the counties where the toll was the most severe, should enlist in the highway department's all-Ohio Traffic Safety contest for 1940, and strive in every way possible to help us in the department reduce the slaughter on our roads," said Col. Robert S. Beighler, highway department director.

"If we can enroll in the campaign all the cities of the state of 5,000 population or more, we believe we can make substantial forward strides this year in reducing the traffic toll on the state highways," Colonel Beighler added.

KANSAS WHEAT FACES FAILURE

High Winds, Hot Weather of Early Spring Sear Crop

TOPEKA, Kas.—Kansas farmers fear another wheat crop failure, a failure that they had hoped to avert through spring rainfall.

Instead of rain it has been wind and abnormally hot weather and the combination completed the ruin of thousands of acres, where previously there had been at least a weak stand of grain.

The climax came recently, when 80 and 90 degree temperatures coupled with winds of almost cyclonic intensity to blow away what little wheat was left in the western half of the state and in much of the growing regions of Oklahoma, Nebraska, Texas and eastern Colorado.

Half May Be Abandoned.

The Santa Fe railroad agricultural department issued a crop report in which it indicated that at least half of the 13,000,000 acres which were sowed to winter wheat in Kansas would be abandoned. Such abandonment would mean a crop of probably no more than 60,000,000 bushels, which would be one of the smallest on record and less than one-fifth the size of the largest.

According to the Santa Fe report, the winds provided a climax to an adverse crop season, which started last fall when farmers waited far beyond normal planting time and finally put their seed in dry soil. Much of the seed never germinated at all, a lot more was eaten by parasites. Some came up in a weak stand when belated rains gave it a start in late October and November.

In recent weeks, most commission houses have issued advances in their crop letters to the effect that a substantial reduction in earlier estimates could be expected if hot weather and dry winds came during March or April.

Fate of Crop Doubtful

The Robinson Elevator company in Kansas City emphasized in its crop letter that the fate of the crop still is in the balance. The letter stated that it would be difficult to arrive at a conclusion until it was known what kind of weather would be forthcoming. "It must be borne in mind that only a relative small portion of the 120,000,000 acres planted had a normal fall development," the letter stated.

The Cargill company of Kansas City took the view that the shortage might not be as great as expected, despite the recently adverse growing weather. "Many late germinating fields may be allowed to grow in the hope that a small yield may be harvested," the Cargill crop letter stated.

Most commission house operators emphasized, however, that almost daily reductions in the estimates may be expected from now on, unless generous moisture throughout the belt comes quickly.

Mrs. Taylor Guest of Mothers' Club

Mrs. Homer S. Taylor, pianist, was guest speaker at a meeting of the Progressive Mothers' circle Tuesday evening at the home of Mrs. George Atles on Washington ave.

Mrs. Taylor's talk on music, given in connection with the program subject for the meeting, "Growing Up With Music," stressed the importance of music in a child's life. She explained that rhythm, melody and harmony are the three most outstanding things in music, to which a child responds in a greater or lesser degree. No child should be forced into music, but every one who manifests a desire and liking for it should be encouraged. Mrs. Taylor declared. Children who have the knack of interpretation and composition show their musical talents in those lines early in life.

Mrs. Taylor entertained with a piano solo, a Brahms waltz. Other musical numbers included vocal solos, "At Evening" (Debussy) and "Tomorrow" (Strauss) Floyd Craig, accompanied by Homer S. Taylor; vocal solos, "Beautiful Blue Danube" (Strauss) and "Beautiful Dreamer" (Strauss) Miss Mary Ruth Allen; two piano numbers, "Legend" (Tschendoff) and "Theme" (Tschakowsky) Elaine Moore, a guest of the club.

The social hour was enjoyed informally with lunch served by the host's mother, Mrs. R. R. McGhee. The next meeting will be held at 2:30 p. m. Sunday, May 19 at the Methodist church, with Mrs. Theodore Jones and Mrs. Wilbur West as hostesses.

Elks Auxiliary to Meet in Canton

A number of Elks auxiliary members will attend a ladies' luncheon Saturday in the Mayflower hotel in Akron, to be held in connection with the annual state convention of the Elks lodge.

The event for the lodge women will be held at 1 p. m., featuring an address by Dr. Edward J. McCormick of Toledo, past grand ruler of the Elks.

Reservations must be made by Thursday noon with Mrs. Charles Treby by members planning to attend.

Mrs. Russell McGaffick Is Club Hostess

Mrs. Russell McGaffick was hostess to a diverse club associates at her home on E. Pershing st. last evening.

Three tables of "500" were in play, prizes going to Mrs. Virgil Kiepper and Mrs. Henry Meissner. Lunch was served at the tables, decorated attractively in pink and blue.

Mrs. Edward McCloskey and Mrs. Leo Affolter were guests of the club.

Mrs. Wayne Loschinsky will entertain the group May 7 at her home on W. Second st.

Theatre Attractions

Joel McCrea and Ginger Rogers in "Primrose Path" showing at the State theater Thursday through Saturday.

Decidedly in the "different" line is the Joel McCrea-Ginger Rogers co-starring picture, "Primrose Path" showing at the State Thursday through Saturday.

A completely dramatic role, with, however its moments of delightful comedy, falls to the lot of the former dancing partner of Fred Astaire. Her talents for comedy and undisputed dramatic ability are well displayed in her performance as the daughter of the charming, if loose-moraled, lady whose weekend trips support the family.

Joel McCrea is excellent as the hardworking young service station attendant whose ambitions get all tangled up in his affections for the daughter of a drunken father, a "light" mother and a lusty grandmother who regrets her granddaughter's respect for conventions keeps the girl off the "primrose path".

Marjorie Rambeau is seen as the mother, Henry Travers as the grandfather and Quenelle Vassar as the grandmother. Miles Mander as the father. Others in the cast are Joan Carroll, Vivienne Osborn, star of silent films, and Carmen Morales.

Concluding tonight at the State is "It All Came True" with Ann Sheridan, Jeffrey Lynn, Humphrey Bogart Zasu Pitts, Jessie Busley and Una O'Connor.

The Grand's double bill tonight is, "Millionaire Playboy" with Joe Penner, Arthur J. Bryan, the "little man" of the Grouch club radio

Gold Coins Dug Up By Relief Workers

CINCINNATI, April 24.—Gold is where you find it and apparently it's "finders keepers".

A city relief worker's pick found it yesterday afternoon and about 14 quick-grabbing fellow workers on a storage yard project shared it. City Solicitor John D. Ellis said he thought they could keep it unless the real owner turned up and identified it.

The gold was old coins, some of them French and Mexican, dated from 1813 to 1860. E. W. Botts, in charge of the project, estimated that the find might be worth as much as $300.

"MOST ECONOMICAL CAR WE EVER OWNED"

YOU SAY YOUR PONTIAC SAVES YOU MONEY FOUR WAYS THAT?

MY FIRST SAVING WAS ON PRICE. I GOT A BIG CAR, YET THE PRICE WAS RIGHT DOWN WITH THE LOWEST.

I'M SAVING PLENTY ON GAS. LOOK—THE GAUGE IS DOWN ONLY FIVE GALLONS, YET I'VE DRIVEN OVER 100 MILES SINCE I HAD THE TANK FILLED. NEVER ADD OIL BETWEEN CHANGES, EITHER.

BOY/SHE CERTAINLY EATS UP THE MILES!

THAT'S NOT THE HALF OF IT! IT PULLED ME THROUGH A BLIZZARD LAST WEEK THAT WOULD HAVE COST ME A BIG ORDER IF I HAD BEEN DEWYED PONTIAC RELIABILITY MEANT REAL MONEY IN MY POCKET THAT DAY!

AND WE'LL SAVE AGAIN WHEN WE TRADE IN. PONTIAC'S SILVER STREAK DESIGN IS SO BASIC AND SOUND THAT IT NEVER GROWS OLD. . . YES, PONTIAC IS EASILY THE MOST ECONOMICAL CAR WE'VE EVER OWNED!

MEXICO BUILDS SCENIC SKYWAY

New Turnpike Is Labeled Most Spectacular On Continent

SAN ANTONIO, Tex.—Mexico is constructing an alternate section of the Inter-American highway that will run between Popocatepetl and Ixtaccihuatl volcanoes and will be the "most spectacular motor drive on the continent," William H. Furlong said on his return from a visit to the scene.

Furlong, director general of the Inter-American Highway Association, said that a veteran good-roads enthusiast, said that the section between Amecameca and Atlixco, through the Pass of Cortez, was the most scenic route he ever saw.

"The plan is to follow as nearly as possible the route Hernan Cortez took after the battle of Cholul-u," he explained. "History has it that it was from 'The Saddle' that Cortez and his conquistadores first beheld the Valley of Mexico, then with its beautiful lake and little towns and cities dotting its shores lying more than a mile below."

The Inter-American Highway's
Mexican section has been completed from Laredo, Tex., southward to Monterey and on to Mexico City. It is now under construction to Oaxaca.

The main route south of Mexico
City is to Amecameca, Cuauila,
Jonacatepec, Izucar de Matamoros,
Tehuacan, Tehuacan, Huajuapam
de Leon, Nochistlan, Teixtlahuaca, Ella, and Oaxaca.

Purlong said that it first was decided that the extension of the highway from Mexico City to Guatemala would be via Puebla and Tehuacan, to Huajuapam de Leon and thence to Oaxaca, but, he said,
"after looking into the matter more thoroughly it was decided that because the area between Mexico City and Tehuacan was favored by rail, plane and pavement, it would be a good idea to find another location which would lie through sections that never before had been served by transportation facilities—and they did that."

Freddie Is Robbed

CLEVELAND, April 24.—The doors of Freddie's cafe, downtown Vincent avenue night club, had been locked nearly an hour today when a masked gunman stepped from a washroom. He held Freddie Meyers, proprietor, and two employees at gun point as he scooped up $530 from a cash register and $57.10 from a check room box. Before fleeing in a taxicab, he remarked, "I'm desperate—I want

PENNSYLVANIA'S GUFFEY LEADING

steadily to his first lead over his chief opponent for Republican nomination for U. S. Senator, Albert H. Laddner, Philadelphia attorney.

Although the Guffey-Jones Democratic scrap was the only lively issue of the campaign, Republicans, with a registration of 2,572,100 to the Democrats' 2,049,129, were polling heavier toals.

Republican organization-backed candidates won by wide margins. Heading the slate, Philadelphia City Chairman Jay Cooke added steadily to his first lead over his chief opponent for Republican nomination for U. S. Senator, Albert H. Laddner, Philadelphia attorney.

Unofficial returns from 4,928 of 8106 districts gave:

Cooke—454,968.
Laddner—134,021.

A third candidate, John A. Devenzo, Altoona publisher, trailed with 27,457.

The Republican organization candidates for state positions—treasurer and auditor general—won by comparable margins.

Pittman Presses Big Navy Demands

WASHINGTON, April 24.—Chairman Pittman (D-Nev.) of the senate foreign relations committee, registering his support for a bigger navy, declared today it was imperative that the United States build a fleet capable of defending the western hemisphere alone, if necessary.

Pittman told reporters that he thought this country should not depend on the existence of a British fleet to maintain the Monroe doctrine.

Neither, he said, should the United States ever be placed in the position again of having to go to the aid of England and France to protect its own interests, as it did in the last war.

"It would be less burdensome and less dangerous to provide a navy that could protect the American hemisphere against any attack than it would be to maintain a constant protectorate over Great Britain and France," Pittman said.

Action by the senate naval committee on the 11 per cent naval expansion bill is expected next week. Already approved by the house, the legislation authorizes a future outlay of $655,000,000 for the construction of aircraft carriers, cruisers, submarines and auxiliary ships totaling more than 240,000 tons.

Senator Byrd (D-Va.), a member of the naval committee, said he would support the fleet expansion despite his hostility to most spending proposals and Chairman Walsh (D-Mass.) predicted that the committee would approve the bill with only minor changes.

The Wrong Book

CLEVELAND, April 24.—Mr. and Mrs. Arthur Codner have 10 sons today, all living. Arrival of the tenth brought consternation to Mrs. Codner who said: "I had a book with every girl's name imaginable. I had expected a daughter but my husband is just as happy as if it were his first baby."

Reunion After "Return from the Dead"

John Francis Mulhall, 90, who "came back from the dead" to win a $12,000 share of his late daughter's estate, stands humbly by his former wife, Mrs. Susan Mulhall, 85, gives him a piece of her mind outside Manhattan Surrogate's Court. It was first time they had met since Mulhall vanished 61 years ago, leaving his wife and baby daughter to go west. The girl grew up to become the wealthy Mrs. Isabel McHie. She died last April.

Lisbon Youth Rally Planned On May 12

LISBON, April 24.—Plans were made for a city-wide young people's rally, to be held in the Presbyterian church on Sunday, May 12, at a meeting of representatives of young people's societies of the various churches last evening in the Youth Program headquarters.

O. M. McGeath, director, said. The meeting was presided over by Edwin Hart and Vance Brinker, heads of the Presbyterian and Methodist young peoples groups, respectively, and a program was outlined.

Committees were named. They are: Refreshment, Virginia Crawford, Bob Walker, Betty Lou Bean, Lester Sexton Jr., Paul Nicholson, Elaine Evans, Shirley Ann Frew and William Hendricks.

Music—Mary Lodge, Elaine Evans, Virginia Maxwell and Eddie Kaufman.

Worship—Jean Firestone, Wilbur Robinson, Virginia Dillon and Ray Lewis, Jr.

Program—Marcia Henry, Jewell ruber and Naomi Guy.

Discussion—Eddie Hart, Vance Brinker, William Hendricks and Bernard Kaufman.

CIO Union Loses

CINCINNATI, April 24.—The labor board's changed policy in holding run-off elections between the most popular choices in collective bargaining elections rather than resulted under a union and no union, resulted today in defeat of a CIO steel workers local.

An independent employees organization at the R. K. Leblond Machine Tool Co. received 293 votes to 229 for the union. In the original election the steel workers union received 266 votes, the independent 236, and 44 were for no union.

Flashes From War Fronts

STOCKHOLM, April 24.—Three Norwegian Bus drivers, pressed into service to transport German troops, were reported today to have driven their vehicles heading over a cliff, killing themselves and most of their 180 Nazi passengers.

The story was told by Reidar Haanes, sports writer for a Norwegian newspaper, on his arrival here.

BRUSSELS, April 24.—Anti-aircraft defenses south of Brussels went into action today to drive off an unidentified plane flying over Belgian territory.

LONDON, April 24.—Statisticians, after studying Britain's new war budget, estimated today that increased taxes on beer, tobacco, postage and telephone calls would cost the average man one shilling, seven pence, or about 40 cents, a week. This is based on an estimate that the average Briton buys 2½ pints of beer a week, smokes 70 cigarettes, posts five letters and makes seven telephone calls.

ROME, April 24.—The Bologna newspaper Resto Del Carlino today forecast a German victory in the European war and declared that Italy's future as well as Germany's is at stake in the outcome.

Discussing the question "should we fight for Germany?" the newspaper said that if Italy entered the war "we will not fight 'for Germany' but rather 'beside Germany'."

Teacher Reviews Trip At Meeting Of Leetonia Club

LEETONIA, April 24.—Miss Dorothy Martin, a teacher at Columbian High school, reviewed her recent trip through Scandinavian countries in Europe at a meeting of the Leetonia Kiwanis club at St. Paul's Lutheran church last night.

The dinner was served by the Priscilla club. Charles J. Spaltholt presented the attendance prize.

Mrs. Vernon Walters entertained the Past Noble Grand club of D. Wallace Rebekah lodge, No. 279, at the I. O. O. F. hall last night.

Four tables of "500" were in play with prizes going to Mrs. Louis Atkinson and Mrs. Raymond Baker. Lunch was served by the hostess.

Miss Helen Schaeffer entertained club associates at her home last night. Guests enjoyed bridge with three tables in play. A lunch was served.

"In the Spring—"

MINNEAPOLIS—Two 15-year-old swains had an argument over a girl and it finally took six squads of police to restore order.

The rival lovers told a couple of friends they were going to meet and fight it out. The friends told other friends and so on. At fight time 400 youngsters were on hand.

Parents started calling police who worked for more than an hour to break up the crowd.

Fish Story

WICHITA, Kas.—H. M. Williams lost his expensive fountain pen last August as he hauled in a big fish on Santa Fe lake.

Finding the water had receded many feet this spring, he started digging. He recovered the pen, undamaged and ready for use—without even refilling.

Annenberg Guilty

M. L. Annenberg

After pleading guilty in Chicago federal court to an indictment charging him and 12 other persons with conspiracy to evade payment in 1936 on his income tax, amounting to $1,217,296.73, including interest and penalties, M. L. Annenberg, Philadelphia publisher, is shown leaving the federal building.

Here and There About Town

Pledged To Journalism "Fraternity"
Joe Martin of Salem is among nine students who have been pledged members of Omega Nu, honorary journalism fraternity, at Brigham Young university in Provo, Utah.

Omega Nu originated on the "Y" campus in 1935 to stimulate interest in journalism and to promote higher standards in this field.

During the past two years the fraternity has published a quarterly magazine at B. Y. U. called "The Wye." The magazine has a sales circulation of about 500 copies and is composed almost entirely of material contributed by students of the university.

On O. W. U. Committee

Miss Jean McCarthy, 253 S. Lincoln ave., has been named a member of the Ohio Wesleyan university concert and lecture series committee. She is a junior at the university. The committee arranges each year for a lecture series which this season will include Robert Frost and Thomas Mann.

Miss McCarthy's other activities include membership in the university Y. W. C. A. and the Wesleyan Players, dramatics association. A graduate of Salem High school, she is a member of the university chapter of Delta Delta Delta sorority.

Recreation Club Meets

Salem Recreation club members will meet Thursday in the Memorial building, the Senior group at 1 p. m. and the Juniors at 3:30.

The club will complete any unfinished sewing and other handwork. A week from Thursday, cooking classes will begin new schedules.

Plans will be discussed with members and prospective members at tomorrow's meeting. All are urged to attend. Making menus, serving meals and actual cooking will comprise the course, it is announced.

Faces Youngstown Police

Robert Shannon of Franklin st. was turned over to Youngstown police yesterday to face a robbery charge which resulted from the youth's attempt about a month ago to steal a pocketbook from a woman in Youngstown.

Shannon, stabbed in the side when he grappled with two men who attempted to hold him for police at the time, has since been recuperating in Salem City hospital and at his home.

In Fair Condition

Ronald Bell, 16, son of Mr. and Mrs. H. J. Bell of the Lisbon rd., is reported in fair condition at the Central Clinic where he was taken Monday evening. Bell accidentally shot himself in the right foot early Monday evening when he set his gun against a fence and it slipped to the ground, discharging as it fell.

Patrolman Kiwanis Guest

State Highway Patrolman R. I. Governor of the Massillon barracks, will be the guest of the Kiwanis club at its noon luncheon meeting Thursday in the Memorial building.

Davey Schedules Sixteen Speeches; In Canton Friday

KENT, April 24.—Former Gov. Martin L. Davey scheduled 16 speeches today in his campaign for a third term as governor. Davey has six Democratic opponents in the May 14 primary.

Davey said he would open his drive with an address in the Veterans of Foreign Wars club at Canton Friday night, appearing at the Elvira Elks club the following night and at the lodge's state convention in Akron Sunday.

His tentative schedule from then on lists New Philadelphia, April 29; Bridgeport, April 30; Zanesville, May 1; Portsmouth, May 2; Hamilton or Middletown, May 3; Lima, May 4; Columbus, May 6; Chillicothe, May 7; Sidney, May 8; Defiance, May 9; Fremont, May 10; Youngstown, May 11; and Akron May 13 at a windup rally for Summit and neighboring counties.

U. S. Rep. Dudley A. White said at East Liverpool that Cleveland Mayor Harold H. Burton and C. E. Wharton of Kenton, his opponents for the Republican U. S. senatorial nomination, had failed to discuss "specific issues."

"Only one of two things could be responsible," the Norwalk congressman declared, "either they are not familiar with them (the issues), or they are taking a diluted stand which they are unwilling to reveal."

Former Salem Girl Advances As Nurse

Miss Mary Elizabeth Sharkey, daughter of Mr. and Mrs. Roy Sharkey, student at Frances Payne Bolton School of Nursing at Western Reserve university, has received her cap from Dean Marion G. Howell, friends here have learned.

Mr. and Mrs. Sharkey, now residents of Steubenville, formerly lived in Salem. Mary Elizabeth was graduated from Salem High school in 1936.

Receipt of her cap marks the successful completion of her first six months in the nursing school. Two and a half years more will give her the degree of master of science in nursing in the Cleveland school which, with the school of nursing of Yale university, shares the distinction of being a graduate school.

Denver Hears Dewey Assail FDR Regime

DENVER, April 24.—Between 9,000 and 10,000 persons, Denver's largest political rally since President Roosevelt spoke on the statehouse steps in 1936, packed the auditorium last night to hear Thomas E. Dewey accuse the Roosevelt administration of turning American progress into "economic stagnation and defeatism."

The New York district attorney, a Republican presidential candidate, said the New Deal administration has "attempted to persuade us that we must resign ourselves to a permanent depression, so that there may be a permanent excuse for the New Deal."

WHITEHALL, Mont.—A "crying room" has been added to the facilities of the Jeff theater here for the benefit of patrons with irritable children. A loud speaker and window in the room enable parents to enjoy the show but soundproofing prevents noisy children from disturbing the rest of the audience.

The CAIRO GARTER MURDERS

By VAN WYCK MASON

Major Bruce Kilgour, of the British Intelligence Service, enlists the aid of Captain Hugh North, of the U. S. Army Intelligence in solving several puzzling murders in Cairo. On the left arm of each victim was found a woman's red and black garter. The police believe the killings are connected with gun-running activities in Egypt. The killer is known by the nom de "Mr. Armstrong." Aboard the S. S. Fort Lucknow enroute to Cairo, Kilgour and North act as strangers. It has been arranged that North sit at the Captain's table with an interesting group whose acquaintanceship might prove valuable in Cairo. It consists of M. Levasseur, a sardonic Frenchman; Dr. Larkin Ladd, Egyptologist and head of Lawrence College in Cairo; her friend, Dairde Clark; Richard Follonsbee, salesman for Heinemann and Schlager, arms manufacturers; Follonsbee claims he sells "sewing machines and reapers"; an exotic beauty, Natika Black, and Monsieur Philipides, retired president of the Italo-Hellenic Chemical Works which manufacture poison gas. Zara, Dr. Ladd's wife, is too ill to join them. After dinner, Follonsbee, obviously perturbed about something, asks North to visit him in his cabin later. After dinner, North goes on deck where he meets Dr. and Mrs. Ladd. They go to the Bacchante Room for liqueurs. There North hears Natika conversing with Philipides in Greek. Further on, Lolita sits with Follonsbee and an Egyptian named Ben Yamen Hasid Pasha. Zara's personality puzzles North. Her features are strong though delicately molded, and her wide cheek line tapered to a small dimpled chin. She wore a knitted dress instead of an evening gown and no stockings. North is surprised to see Kilgour entering the room with-out of all people — Colonel Stag Melborne, soldier of fortune. What was Stag doing on board? The Captain was relieved when Stag passed without recognizing him.

CHAPTER VIII

Hasid Pasha meanwhile had settled back in his chair and was addressing Follonsbee. "To learn that so brilliant a member of the British Intelligence as Major Kilgour is going to Cairo at this time is most interesting."

"What do you mean, sir?" the young man demanded.

"A most interesting situation has arisen there, but since Doctor Ladd has been away only a couple of weeks, suppose we let him tell us about the strange murders they've had there."

"Even to us Americans, so close about crime," the scholar began, "these killings are astonishing. Egypt is a strange land and the unexpected always seems to happen there."

"May we join you, Mrs. Ladd?" North started so quietly had M.

Philipides and his lovely companion crossed the lounge. The old Greek bowed courteously to the other men and nodded to Ben Yamen Hasid in familiar fashion. "A little reunion, is it not? What a pity we Egyptologists see so little of each other."

"We have even brought our excuse for joining you," Natika Black gave the table a ravishing smile. "Yes, news from Cairo! Another victim of that dreadful Mr. Armstrong has been found!"

"What!" Hasid Pasha sat bolt upright.

"Yes," Natika went on excitedly. "Listening to the radio just now we heard that the police have found in the desert the dried body of a German named Wolff."

"Eh?" Follonsbee's voice sounded a little strident.

"An accident perhaps?" Mrs. Ladd suggested nervously.

"Unfortunately," put in the old Greek, "that was impossible. The victim had been shot through the mouth and he had been dead for weeks."

"But," objected Lolita in wide-eyed uneasiness, "it may have been robbers. Dad was saying there has been no garter killing since last month."

"Wolff was found wearing one of those silly garters about his arm."

"Another garter murder!" Dr. Ladd burst out. "How ghastly! I don't see why the police can't put a stop to such outrages."

"How very tragic," cried Zara Ladd. "Why, Mr. Follonsbee, what is the matter?"

"I—I have a letter to Wolff!" Follonsbee said thickly.

"That's a great pity," Dr. Ladd gave the young fellow a sympathetic pat on the arm. "Such an end is dreadful."

"But scarcely astonishing," Natika Black interrupted smoothly.

"What do you mean?" North queried casually.

"Well," said she with a little shrug of white shoulders, "haven't business rivalries been settled that way for many thousands of years? To live at all is a risk, a struggle. Someone always has to win—and lose."

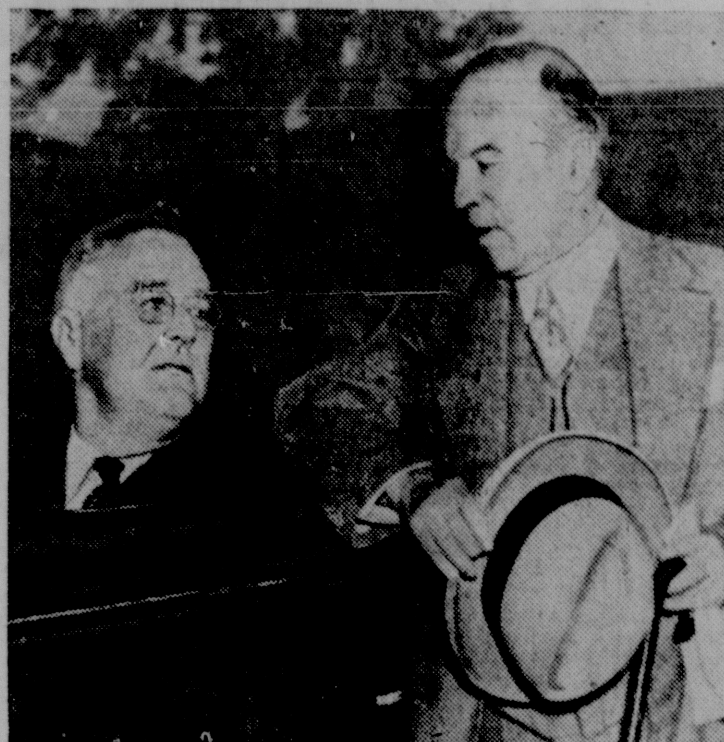

Almost everyone started at such a comment from a perfectly groomed young femme du monde. Her tone had been as matter of fact as if she were discussing a new gown. Dr. Ladd appeared shocked.

"Dear me, Miss Black, that is scarcely a Christian point of view. I hope there aren't many others who accept an atrocious murder so—er—philosophically."

"I have lived much in the Near East and I have observed that neither men nor nations have found any other way of settling vital questions," came the untroubled reply. "Look now guns and ammunition are pouring across their borders."

"I wonder?" Hasid Pasha leaned forward, an amused smile on his coppery features. "Have you not heard, Miss Black of the British and Switzerland and Dad met me there. Well," she terated him to a wide smile of infectious quality. "I must be trotting off to my little downy."

After bidding her a pleasant good night, Hugh North steadied himself against the liner's surging, and made his way down to C deck. Aware once more of the Fort Lucknow's soft creaking and groaning, he fell to wondering about "Mr. Armstrong." Had the crimes really stantly perceived things were not as they should be. The drawer of a writing desk had fallen out casting a snowdrift of paper onto the sofa alongside and a suitcase had spewed its contents across the floor. North caught his breath, felt the hairs on the back of his neck quiver, and stir; then fingertips flexing slowly, he advanced, and a musty-sweet odor grew stronger.

"For a hardware salesman Mr. Follonsbee surely believes in being comfortable," murmured North.

The bedroom, too, he found in violent disorder.

In two strides Hugh North crossed the cabin and fixed his eyes on the porthole's bright brass rim. Finding no bloodstains, not even a scratch, on its lip, the man from G-2 resumed search. When he stood before a bathroom door that sickly-sweet smell grew stronger so, bracing himself, he turned the knob and looked inside.

Many ghastly sights had Hugh North beheld yet never had he felt so deeply sickened, so utterly outraged. Bound hand and foot with adhesive tape and effectively gagged, young Follonsbee lay on the bottom of the bathtub.

SALEM HIGH WINS TRIANGULAR TRACK MEET

QUAKERS EDGE BOARDMAN AND LISBON TEAMS

Salem Scores 70 Points, Gains Eight Firsts In Meet

Capturing eight firsts in 14 events, Coach Fred Cope's Salem High school track and field team defeated Boardman and Lisbon in a triangular meet at Reilly stadium yesterday.

The Quakers piled up 70 points to nose out Boardman by two and one-half points and top Lisbon by a wide margin. Boardman counted 67 points, Lisbon 16 1/2.

The victory was Salem's second in as many meets this season. The Quakers will go to their third straight win Friday afternoon when they invade Louisville for a dual meet.

Scoring Is Close

Salem and Boardman waged a close scoring battle throughout the triangular meet, coming up to the final event, the mile relay, with the Quakers leading by the small margin of one-half a point. Salem's mile relay team of Ernest Hrovatic, Kenny O'Connell, Glenn Whinnery and Bob Shaw won the final event in 3 minutes, 48.1 seconds to clinch the victory.

The Quakers eight firsts were evenly split among track and field events.

First-place points in field events were garnered by Tommy Rhodes in the pole vault, Dick Beck in the shot put, Eugene Myers in the discus and Ernest Turner in the high jump.

The Quakers' firsts in track events were picked up by Shaw in the 220-yard low hurdles, Whinnery in the 440-yard dash, Elliott Hansell in the 220-yard dash and by the mile relay team.

Poor baton passing cost the Quakers' 800-yard relay team a possible victory after they had gained a lead in the first lap of the race. Hansell, who raced to victory in 23.7 seconds in the 220, was noosed out of a possible win in the 100 by a slow start.

Loses Mile Run

Art Horning made a good showing in the mile, running the distance faster than ever before in his career, but losing to Glover of Boardman in 4 minutes and 52 seconds.

Glover's win in the mile was one of six firsts captured by Boardman. Lisbon failed to win an event.

Results of the 14 events follow:

120-YARD HIGH HURDLES — Miller (B) won; Cartwright (L) second; Shaw (S) third; Shafer (S) fourth. Time—16 seconds.

100-YARD DASH — Miller (B) won; Hansell (S) second; Nieder (B) third; Cobbs (S) fourth. Time—10.2 seconds.

MILE RUN — Glover (B) won; Horning (S) second; Salva (B) third; Boone (S) fourth. Time—4 minutes, 52 seconds.

POLY VAULT — Rhodes (S) won; Dressell (B) and Cartwright (L) tied for second; Shaw (S), Scullion (S) and Harriger (B) tied for fourth. Height—10 feet, 6 inches.

SHOT PUT — Beck (S) won; Meeker (B) second; Cook (L) third; Scullion (S) fourth. Distance—46 feet, 2 1/2 inches.

DISCUS — Myers (S) won; Wiggins (B) second; Beck (S) third; Meeker (B) fourth. Distance—112 feet, 9 inches.

HIGH JUMP — Turner (S) won; Cartwright (L) second; Dressell (B) and Krepps (S) tied for third. Height—5 feet, 2 inches.

800-YARD RUN — Salva (B) won; Glover (B) second; Shannon (S) third; Horning (S) fourth. Time—2 minutes, 11.9 seconds.

220-YARD LOW HURDLES — Shaw (S) won; Miller (B) second; Purucker (B) third; Scullion (S) fourth. Time—28 seconds.

BROAD JUMP — Miller (B) won; Turner (S) second; Nieder (B) third; Cook (S) fourth. Distance—19 feet, 9 1/2 inches.

800-YARD RELAY — Boardman (Sullivan, Waite, Fildram and Neider) won; Salem, second; Lisbon, third. Time—1 minute, 39.7 seconds.

440-YARD DASH — Whinnery (S) won; Polet (B) second; Martin (S) third; Pastor (B) fourth. Time—55.6 seconds.

220-YARD DASH — Hansell (S) won; Neider (B) second; Fildram (B) third; Cobbs (S) fourth. Time—23.7 seconds.

MILE RELAY — Salem (Hrovatic, O'Connell, Whinnery and Shaw) won; Boardman, second. Time—3 minutes, 48.1 seconds.

POLLY AND HER PALS

Breezy Briefs Of Sport From Brietz To You

By EDDIE BRIETZ

NEW YORK, April 24.—Look out, here comes another Thorpe! Frank, a 200-lb nephew of old Jim, is running wild and heaving the pigskin 65 yards for Shawnee (Okla.) High. Connie Mack says in all his 50 years of baseball the weather this spring is the worst he has bumped into. Latest Derby odds have Bimelech down to 8-5.

Midland is right behind at 7-1, with Andy K. staying at 10-1.

There is an old saying that the bigger they are the nicer they are. Well, Robert Colby, a Detroit schoolboy, has ambitions to become a track athlete. So he wrote Glenn Cunningham, Chuck Fenske, Gene Venzke and Lou Zamperini for help. All answered promptly and courteously, with advice and encouragement.

Joe Louis really takes his hair down in an interview with Gene Kessler of the Chicago Times, in one of the mags this week. If the Dodgers can keep winning, they'll get fat on bonuses. Larry MacPhail gave Hugh Casey $200 for blanking the Giants 12-0 and handed $100 to Cookie Lavagetto, key man in the attack. The plaque of Lou Gehrig will be unveiled June 13.

Today's Guest Star

W. Blaine Patton, Indianapolis star American Association baseball manager, is "sweaty balls" of the first water to continue to ape their big league brothers in the way of schedule-making. April is this year and will be next year with all the percentage in favor of J. Pluvius. The season should open later in the month or the first of May. Amen, brother.

The June Travis you hear on the "Old Alone" program is the daughter of Harry Grabner, vice president of the Chicago White Sox.

RIVER PREVENTS REDS BALL GAME

Cincinnati Leaves For Two-Game Series At Chicago

CINCINNATI, April 24.—The schedule says there's a ball game here today but the Ohio river for the first time in major league history says there isn't and that's that.

The Cincinnati Reds, in fact, aren't even waiting round to see if the flood waters will recede from the ball park in time for a couple of innings. They left at midnight for Chicago, which has a colder climate but keeps dry underfoot, for a two-game series starting tomorrow.

They hope to be able to pick up here again Saturday against the Pittsburgh Pirates. General Manager Warren C. Giles says they'll play come you-know-what or high water, but the high water is already here and there is some question whether the field will be in playing condition even by Saturday.

The Pirates asked him to transfer the Saturday and Sunday games to Pittsburgh but Giles said no.

Giles is depending on Groundskeeper Matty Schwab's fire hose siphon invention to drain the fields. It will work if the river is stationary or falling and the weather bureau promises that barring further heavy rains, the river is due to crest today at 90 feet, a few inches higher than the pitcher's mound.

It may remain stationary for a day or so after cresting and then start down slowly.

Outside of possible damage to the field the main worry for the National league champions is too much rest. They have played just three games since the season opened last Tuesday and while the results have been eminently satisfactory, it's hard to keep in condition in a hotel lobby.

Also, it costs $100 to rent office good fight.

Eight 6-Round Draw

NEW YORK, April 24.—Frankie Gilmore, 139, Cincinnati, and Jimmy Fantini, 139, New York, fought a six-round draw last night at the Coliseum as a semi-final to the eight-round decision victory of Dave Castilhoux, Canadian lightweight champion, 134 1/2, over Wesley Ramey, 135, Grand Rapids, Mich.

Officers Of Association Announced At Annual Banquet

Elevation of James D. Primm from vice president to president of the Salem Bowling association was announced last night at the association's annual banquet at the Germania hall.

Primm will head the association during the 1940-41 season, succeeding E. A. Beardmore as president. Close to 175 bowlers from nine men's leagues attended the banquet, followed by a story program in charge of the retiring president.

Juergens Re-elected. Officers of the association for the 1940-41 season were elected by a vote of team captains two weeks ago, but results of the election were not announced until last night.

Merle Caldwell was named vice president, succeeding Primm, while W. H. "Bill" Juergens was re-elected secretary-treasurer, the most important office in the association.

Primm, a bowler in leagues at both the Masonic temple and the Grate Recreation alleys, is the fourth man to be elected president of the association. Past presidents are Beardmore, who served one term in 1939-40; Ralph Hawley, who served three terms from the 1936-37 season through the 1938-39 season, and Ed Maley, who headed the association in 1935-36, the first season it was organized.

The announcement that Juergens had been re-elected to a fifth term as secretary-treasurer was greeted warmly by bowlers attending the banquet.

Juergens has served as secretary-treasurer of the association since the start of the 1936-37 season, has devoted considerable time to his office and has been instrumental in developing the association's annual tournament into one of Salem's biggest sports events.

Juergens' efforts in promoting the tournament this season resulted in a record entry of 53 five-man teams, 113 sets of doubles and 172 individuals in the singles.

Juergens, who serves as secretary of two leagues in addition to his association office, is the only paid officer of the association. He receives 10 per cent of the total entry fees received in the annual tournament.

Juergens handles all correspondence of the association, works for several weeks in advance of the annual tournament in lining up entries and for two weeks during the tournament in compiling scores. His reports are forwarded to the American Bowling Congress with which the Salem association is affiliated.

Two past presidents of the association, Maley and Hawley, were introduced during the banquet program. Both spoke briefly.

Proposal Stated Down. Hawley, who supervised counting the ballots, announced the results of the election, adding that a proposal that the annual tournament be held in Columbiana next year was voted down by team captains, 40 to 26.

The 1941 tournament will be held at the Masonic temple alleys, Hawley said.

The owner of a Columbiana bowling establishment had asked that his alleys be considered as the site for the 1941 tournament because Columbiana teams are affiliated with the Salem association.

An interesting talk on the growth of bowling in Salem and throughout the United States over a period of years was given by Juergens, who cited figures to show the increase in popularity of the sport.

Juergens told how the Salem association in five years has grown from a three-league unit to an organization embracing nine leagues and 86 men's teams.

The splendid cooperation of association officers, bowlers and alley proprietors is responsible for this growth, Juergens declared.

Cite High Scores. Juergens cited the season's highest team and individual scores, including a 2,940 series by the Gem Shoe Shine, a 1,050 single game by Demings, a 682 series by George Hoover and a 286 single game by Adam Smith.

The new president of the association, introduced by Retiring President Beardmore, assured bowlers in a brief talk that he would devote his best efforts toward keeping the association moving forward.

Beardmore thanked bowlers for their cooperation during his term as president, declaring that he had enjoyed the work of his office because of the whole-hearted support given him.

Skeet Association Plans Ohio Shoot May 25-26

COLUMBUS, April 24.—Buckeye trigger stuff! As Ohio's small bore rifleman prepared to wind up their indoor activities next weekend with the ninth annual team championships at Fort Hayes barracks, the Ohio State Skeet association announced today it would hold its state title shoot at the Columbus Gun club May 25 and 26.

Feature of Saturday's firing in the rifle tournament is the inter-league match, in which 10 men from each of the state's nine leagues will battle the hullseye for the crown won a year ago by the Summit county All-Stars.

Expect 50 Teams. Sunday's program centers around the Ohio team championship, which is expected to attract at least 50 five-man groups. The Medina Rifle club won the Class A title and the National Guard trophy in 1939, with the Richland Class squad of Mansfield taking Class B laurels, and the Cincinnati Rifle club finishing out front in Class C.

Entered in Saturday's league match are the Summit county, Cleveland civilian, Central Ohio, Western, Southwestern, Eastern, Crawford county, Northwestern and North Central circuits.

A prone, metallic sight match, in which the Junior Columbus club defeated 13 senior squads, completes the team events, but Ohio all-star 10-man groups will fire telegraphic matches against California and Wyoming.

Sam Bond, winner of the state outdoor championship last summer, will receive the Dr. Matthew E. McManes trophy Sunday, the presentation being made by E. N. Littleton of Bowling Green, prey of the Ohio Rifle and Pistol association.

In the skeet tournament, next month, the defending champions are O. Lee Harrison of Dayton and Mrs. M. L. Smythe of Aurora, who copped the feminine crown the last two seasons. W. G. Mouch, president of the Columbus Gun club, said he expected more than 150 shooters to compete on the four championship fields. The shoot will be under the supervision of C. M. Shetter of Canton, president of the Ohio State Skeet association, and C. N. Spencer of Akron, secretary-treasurer.

Skeet association officers said efforts would be made to have the state meet awarded annually to the Columbus club because of its central location.

Also on the skeet front was the formation this week of the Southwestern Ohio Inter-City Skeet league, with Cincinnati, Springfield, Dayton and Columbus as members. The clubs plan a round-robin series, with the first shoot in Columbus next Sunday, and others in Dayton May 5, Cincinnati June 23, and Springfield July 14. S. B. Rankin of Springfield is president of the league, and J. M. Shelt of Cincinnati is secretary.

In the league shoots any marksmen from the cities is eligible, with the five high scores from each city counting in the standing. Medals will go to the members of the winning team at the finish of the four matches.

The annual southwestern skeet tourney is scheduled June 15-16 at Dayton.

During spring training Rickie told the fans through the newspapers that Columbus would be in the thick of the pennant fight this season.

Maybe they will, but not unless they do an about-face and head the other way. Meanwhile, a total of 194 paid spectators were on hand yesterday to see Columbus lose its third straight game of the young season, leaving the Birds in the cellar.

Kansas City defeated Columbus, 3 to 2, thereby moving into first place, a half game ahead of Indianapolis and Louisville.

Milwaukee took a brilliant pitchers' battle from Toledo, 1 to 0, in the only other game of the day. Louisville and St. Paul were rained out and Indianapolis and Minneapolis were not scheduled.

Ed Cole allowed only three hits in the eight innings he worked against the Brewers while Frank Makosky went the route, allowing four hits.

P. WANER STILL RELIABLE STAR AT PITTSBURGH

"Big Poison" Figures In Two Recent Wins Of Pirates

When the great guys of baseball are being named, don't let anybody forget Paul Glee Waner of the Pittsburgh Pirates, now or forever hence.

"Big Poison" has been a kinglypin of the Buccaneers for 15 of his 37 years and ball players don't "jes keep rollin'." There will come a time when the fans will ponderously concede that he was quite a fellow when he had it.

Well, as of this date, he still has it.

He went into yesterday's game with the Chicago Cubs in the ninth inning, the Bruins leading 2-1 and the bases loaded with Pirates. Then he singled and the game was over. Score Pittsburgh 3, Chicago 2.

This was just a routine chore soon to be forgotten by the lean, tanned little Oklahoman who led the National league in batting four different years and probably holds more hitting records than any other player now active in his league.

But the day before he also went in against the Cubs as a pinch-hitter and, in his first time at bat this year, delivered a double that figured in a three-run rally and a 9-5 victory. That was the 2,800th hit of his major league career. Only seven other players now in the majors have amassed 2,000 or more hits and Paul is well in front.

Floodwaters kept the Cincinnati Reds and St. Louis Cardinals idle yesterday, but the Brooklyn Dodgers exploded a batch of home runs to liquidate the Boston Bees 8-3. The Pirates, Reds and Dodgers are tied for the National league lead.

For Brooklyn, the most encouraging phase of the game was the way old Tex Carleton tightened up after a bad start. He shut out the Bees for the last eight innings, fanning six and never giving a base on balls.

Giants Finally Win. The New York Giants finally won their first game of the season 1-0 at the expense of the Phillies with Harry Gumbert pitching four-hit ball. Kirby Higbe allowed only five hits but gave eight passes and forced the only run of the game across with a walk in the seventh.

Chubby Dean of the Philadelphia Athletics proved his ten-inning triumph over the World Champion New York Yankees in last week's inaugural was no fluke by coming back with a four-hit shutout yesterday, 3-0. Bump Hadley of the Yanks matched his four hits, but was wild.

Mickey Harris, a recruit the Boston Red Sox brought up from Scranton this spring, gave the Washington Senators a seven-hit diet in his first major league start and the slugging Sox rewarded him with a 7-2 victory.

The western clubs in the American league were rained out.

Washington Senators, 177, Brooklyn, former National Boxing Association middleweight champion, knocked out Herbie Katz, 175 1/2, Brooklyn (R).

WHITE PLAINS, N. Y.—Steve Belloise, 146, New York, outpointed Tony Ferrara, 148 1/2, Mount Vernon, N. Y. (B).

To the Rescue

KANSAS CITY, Kas. — Three street cars were marooned by a fire that destroyed the only tramway bridge between Kansas City and the Argentine district.

The Public Service company has decided to replace the iron wheels with rubber-tired ones and tow the cars to the nearest car line. Then they'll put the iron wheels back.

See the Birdie!

COFFEYVILLE, Kas. — Photographer Bill Steele always laughed at the joke about somebody's breaking the camera when he had his picture taken. But—

A Coffeyville youth smiled pleasantly as Steele snapped the shutter. The back of the camera fell out.

OROVILLE, Cal. — E. H. Smith forgot that his car was still in gear, when, with both feet planted firmly apart, he started cranking it. A house on the opposite side of the street stopped both him and the car. House, car and Smith were damaged.

Always a Step Ahead!

Always a Step Ahead!

Year after year, by introducing important engineering advances, Plymouth has led the low-price field in giving the public finer quality and greater value — changing the buying habits of thousands!

"DO IT BETTER—DO IT FIRST"...there in six words is the basis of Plymouth's fast-growing popularity year after year.

More and more people are coming to realize how true it is that every low-priced car built owes something to Plymouth!

What Plymouth gives the public one year is almost invariably adopted later by other low-priced cars.

A pioneer of hydraulic brakes, Plymouth soon had the public demanding hydraulic brakes on all low-priced cars. It was the same story with the all-steel body.

The list is long—the oil filter, aluminum alloy pistons, Hypoid rear axle—feature after feature that give more economy, finer performance, greater enjoyment.

The 1940 Plymouth gives you the longest wheelbase of "All 3" low-priced cars, the widest seats. Its big Floating Power engine is Superfinished in its vital parts.

And you'll find there's something about Plymouth's performance—about that wonderful Luxury Ride—that makes it hard to believe it's a low-priced car.

Discover how much more quality low price now buys! See the Quality Chart at your Dodge, De Soto or Chrysler dealer's. Take Plymouth's Luxury Ride. PLYMOUTH DIVISION OF CHRYSLER CORPORATION.
